

90 Years of the Ionosonding

Celebrating 90th Anniversary on January 11, 2021

12/05/2020

Welcome to INAG Newsletter 2020-05:

It has been our tradition to celebrate major anniversaries of the first 24-hour sequence of the ionosonde measurements in the ionosphere recorded on January 11, 1931, at Slough observatory in the UK.

The 90th anniversary of HF monitoring of the ionosphere is upcoming on January 11, 2021.

IS THERE LIFE AFTER 90?

You bet.

1. We will be collecting worldwide ionogram images taken on January 11, 2021. Any time of the day will do, please show us your "typical best" data. This is a great opportunity to reach out to the observatories and offer assistance in refreshing their equipment and communication links in time for the celebrations.
2. Please reply to this message with your latest news on the ionosonde data collection, analysis, and associated publications in 2020 for another INAG tradition, our annual "Happy Holidays, INAG!" letter.

AND THANKS!

IRTAM v0.3A : UML

2015.03.17 23:15:00 UT

Incidentally... do you have access to ionosonde data for this event?

Please see the following animation, can you find more ionosonde data?

<http://giro.uml.edu/GAMBIT/NmF2-2015-03-17.html>

If you can acquire additional records, please send them to us for ingestion in DIDBase and updating the animation. SAO data exchange format will be best.

---

Ivan Galkin

UMass Lowell: GIRO
INAG Chair

John Bosco Habarulema

SANSA, South Africa
INAG Co-Chair

Baiqi Ning

IGG CAS, Beijing, China
INAG Co-Chair

---

Exit Note: INAG would like to hear from you on your status and plans. To contribute an article to the INAG Bulletin please write to bulletin@ursi-inag.org. Your article will be published to the URSI G.1 site and announced in this newsletter. To send a short note to INAG newsletter, simply reply to chair@ursi-inag.org.

Copyright © 2020 URSI Ionosonde Network Advisory Group, All rights reserved.